FLORIDA WINTER TOUR

It was so great to finally get back on track in March. We competed in the always-challenging ROK Cup Florida Winter Tour at the Orlando Kart Center. We had 3 long days of practice where with the help of my coaches I learned a Ton. I was able to qualify in 5th which I was very proud of and had top 5 pace in every heat race.

Unfortunately, some bad decision-making and some bad luck meant that I could not capitalize on the strong pace. This was highlighted in the Pre-Final with a bad crash that ended my race and required me to head to the hospital. It was my first trip in an ambulance but luckily we escaped without major injury.

FLORIDA WINTER TOUR

I had a nasty friction burn on my leg from the other driver running over me but thankfully no broken bones. The Dr. said I was sore but not injured and was cleared to race the final the next day.

That night my team worked hard to repair all of the damage on the Kart and I had a great start making several overtakes and working my way up to the top 10. Unfortunately though, on lap 6 my sprocket carrier broke and I was unable to continue. We realized after that it must have been damaged in the crash the day before and we had not noticed.

Despite not a great result I still had a great time. It is always awesome racing against some of the best in North America and I was very pleased with my pace.

Over the course of the week I made great improvements on braking and kart control.

I still have a lot of work to do to perfect driving the Jr.

Kart, especially with some in race decision making, but we made great strides in Florida and I am feeling confident as we head into the Canadian season.

UP NEXT

The Canadian season gets underway in April. This month will be all about practice and getting everything set up. We have a couple of club events but the major races don't start until May.

I can't wait to get back to the Hamilton Karting Complex to reunite with all my racing friends and meet the new members of the club. 2024 is going to be an exciting year, stay tuned to my social media channels to stay up to date on all the races.
